ASTORIA, L. I. September 27 .-To-morrow was the day originally fixed for blowing up the Flood Rock and completing the work of removing the obstructions to navigation in Hell Gate. The discovery was made a few days ago by Lieut. G. McG. Derly, superintendent of the work, that a large number of cases of dynamite cartridges, which had already been placed in receptacles made for them in the galleries which honey-combed the work, had become corroded and worthless. It became necessary to remove all the cartridges already in position, and provide some remedy against further corrosion. All the cartridges are now dipped in melted beesswax previous to being put in the cells, and it is believed there will be no more trouble in this direction. The delay thus caused, necessitates the To-morrow was the day originally first pair, and they speedily rewarded my delay thus caused, necessitates the psstponement of the great explosion for about two weeks, but Gen. I heard Sam Jones speak seven times during the meeting at Platsburg Springs. He strikes from the gospel large are gely new and word derfully that fill mass. He made the preachers cry and say amen and resolve to do better. I used to go to every circle that game doops. But all the clowns together never made me hadsh as much as Sam Jones did. And I've heard some good preaching in my life. But the preaching of Sam Jones made me weep more than any other preaching.—Rev. N. R. Pittman in Raleigh Recorder.

Much excitement has been made by reports recently published on the vile condition of the slums of London. In one cellar was found one family consisting of a home sick with small-pox, his dving wife, three half naked and dirty children, and one pig. In some parts there is one gin-inil to every hundred persons. What defilement! Yet corresponding insuraties often delic the responding imporities often delite the and even when tamed the eye remains a human blood. They can be cast out by distinctive mark of the horse's origin. I think the rat is the most malinged of all animals. Few people recognize the important part he plays in the economy of nature, and his personal character is still more misunderstood. No creature is so amenable to the influence of kindness. I deal only in the fancy variety—the white and white and black rat. The common rat is just as quickly civilized, but popular prejudice against it is too strong to be overcome by any amount of evidence of its good habits. A rat can be tamed far more easily than a squirrel or rabbit. A rabbit will, in fact, hardly ever submit to being fondled, and is always stupid. A rat takes as much delight in cleaning itself as a cat.

The first pair of white rats I had were Two weeks of cleanliness and kindness made them as harmless as doves and far more tractable. I built a double decked nutch, or sort of miniature house, for my

The sensation at the peak is of being in a vacuum. You look at your neighbor and see him in an ethercalized sort of way. You seem and he seems to be distinctly different from yourself in less exalted regions. The atmosphere is like a crystal, and you are the center of it. I defy any body to tell a lie on top of Pike's peak. I believe the lonesome, solemn place, where for all the world you can scarcely get air enough to breathe, to be a very palace of truth.

orm of Serofula for over ten years. Phyicians exhausted their skill, and numerous atent medicines were used without benefit. tite failed, attended with debility, emaciati falling out of the hair and a frightful breaking out of the skin. Her bones became very my diseased and painful (some calling it white swelling), with sleepless nights and a general feeling of horror. Some friend said that B. B. B. would cure her. I procured it and placed her upon its use, and to the utter astor of all who knew her the recovery was rapid and omplete. It acted as a powerful tonic, gave her a splendid appetite and acted upon the kidneys. A few bottles did the work The action of B. B. B. was decidedly quick, and the medicine cost but little. I advise my friends te use it as a blood purifier. Yours truly, R. M. LAWSON.

BLOOD POISON.

Mr. A. P. W., of Hampton, Ga., has recently merged from one of the most remarkable emerged from one of the most remarkable cases of Blood Poison on record. His body and limbs had no less than four hundred small ulcers—his bones tormented him with pains—his appetite failed—his kidneys presented frightful symptoms—and all doctors and 100 bottles of the most popular Blood Poison remedy failed to give him any relief. He secured B. B. B., the concentrated quick cure, and five bottles healed up the ulcers, relieved his pain, cured his kidneys, restored his appetite, and made him a healthy and happy man.
